TURN OFF MIND

RELINQUISH CONTROL

RICHMOND

That borrowed flesh, quasi-conversing in metronome breaths, necromanced with chance like a stereo metal pipe dream.
The thoughts I have when I can't get the amnesia tones out of the radiator.

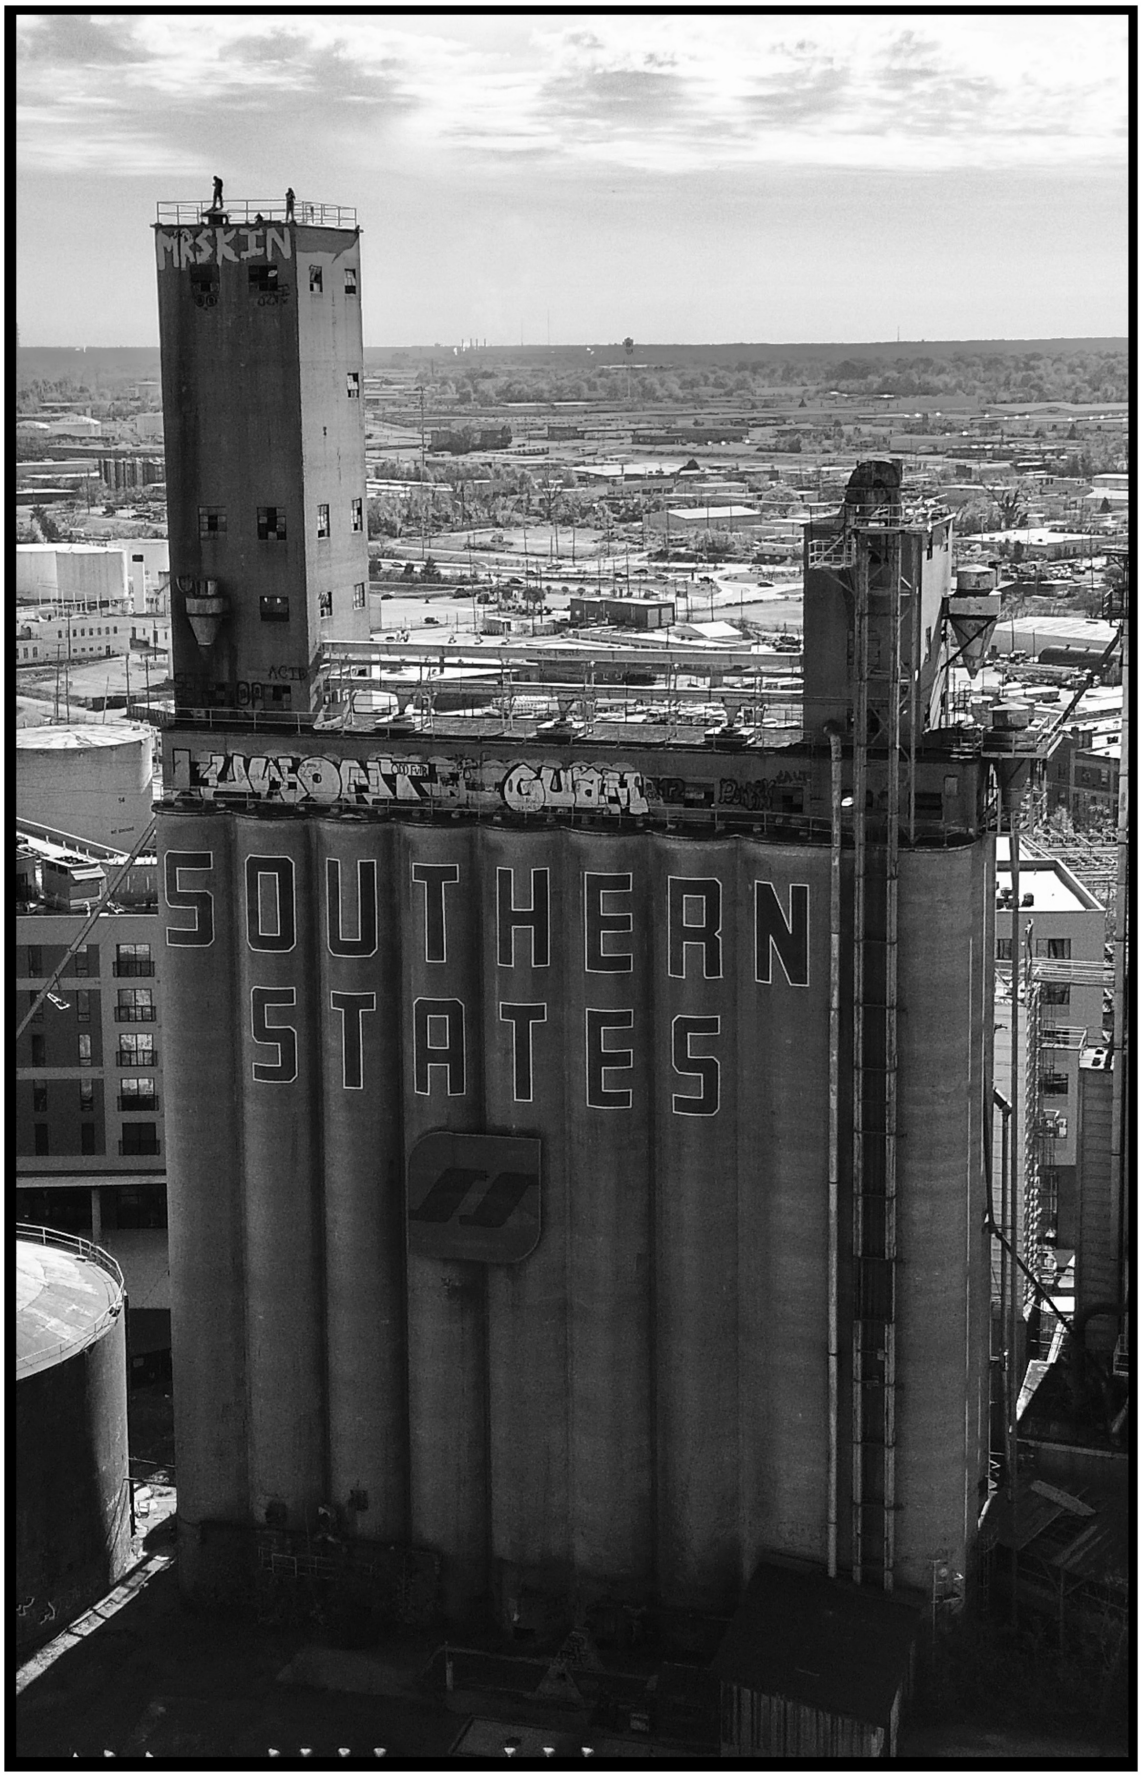
Fear it is



when that midnight grievance

puffs your polluted veins to sound pounding freight trains.

NORTHWEST

The mortal intimacy of your deepening delicate anger is a medieval waking state

To self-employed prisoners that sell plastic bag
stanzas for the biblical lust of pomegranates.
They sift shock written in chalk to contract a flickering consciousness enveloping the dawn inversion of perversions.

If you could taste their desires with your burning tongue of lonely indecision, this nauseation of words would end.

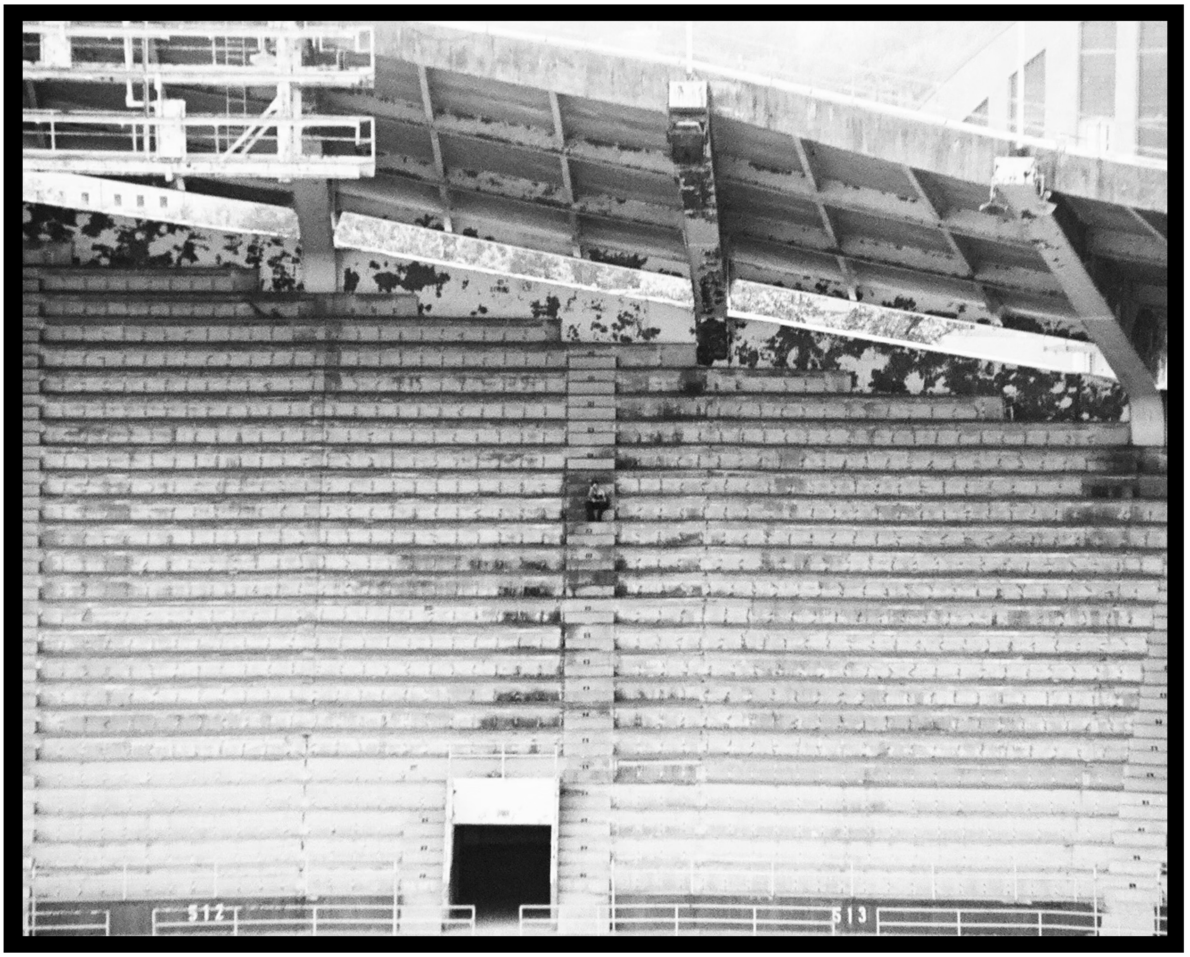
D.C. UNITED
1996



Within the strone of entangled fabrication, our immoral behaviors and rampant thoughts cease to exist.

As we look forward and see the bricks dissolving,
the steel melting,
the wood burning.

The only way out of our
petrified state,
is through
the way we came in.

Safety.

The certainty of change leads us to stray further away.

Below/ above the anti paradise, the ruins claim their loss of youth by suffering the calamities of nature.
